TEGUCIGALPA, HONDURAS, April 26.—Seated in a large, ill kept room on the second floor of police headquarters, beside a long French window, without bars, looking out into the dirty sun scorched tropic street, the woman who is being held here on suspicion of being Clara Phillips, notorious Los Angeles "hammer murderess", today smiled a defiant challenge when told of preparations being made to take her back to California, where she escaped from prison.

"I have refused to waive extradition," said the woman who is known here as Mrs. Jesse Carson, but who was known on the journey through Salvadore as Mrs. R. M. Young. "I will not say I am Clara Phillips nor will I say I am not Clara Phillips. I am not going to say anything at all."

Her lips parted and a smile again flared up in her hard, bold eyes. Neither she nor the woman who was arrested with her have shown any signs of fright, although the man in the party, Jesse Carson, lost his nerve and consented to return to Los Angeles without extradition papers. He is charged with arson.

Is Under Guard

The trio have been detained since their arrest last Saturday afternoon at the request of Franklin Morales, the American minister. Mrs. Carson, (who is suspected of being Clara Phillips) is held in a typical tropical bedroom, 40 feet by 20 feet in size. There are four doorways and two long windows. The only guard is a policeman with a long rifle posted at one of the doors and the policeman on duty downstairs.

The chief of police said that if the identity of the woman were established, it would have been necessary to hold her in the penitentiary, but so long as it was uncertain he had to detain her in better quarters.

The chief, a somnolent Latin-America, is cautious in discussing this case, which has aroused more interest and excitement in Tegucigalpa than anything which has happened for a year.

"I hope," said the chief, "that a mistake has been made, but I fear that there is no question of the prisoner's real identity."

Description Fits

The description of Clara Phillips sent by the Honduran consul at Los Angeles fits "Mrs. Carson" in every detail. She looks like newspaper photographs of the "hammer murderess." Her crinkly hair is done up in a pompadour. Her face is rather square and somewhat masculine. Her eyebrows are shaved and her eyes look directly and boldly into the eyes of anyone to whom she talks. She smiles easily and often, showing perfect white teeth. There is a slight scar on the upper lip.

International News Service correspondent asked the woman a number of questions, such as, "Will you have a lawyer and try to get out on bail?" "Why did you come to Tegucigalpa?" "When did you leave the United States and did you travel by airplane?" and "Did you meet Mrs. Phillips or are you Mrs. Phillips?"

Only once did the woman break

HEADACHE RELIEF IS FATAL

Walter Wolski, 37, of 118 Floral court, died at Memorial hospital late yesterday afternoon as a result of an overdose of acetanilide, pills that he had taken for a headache.

Slept 18 Hours

He lived with his sister, Mrs. Stansel Andrewski and she states that he went to bed early on Wednesday night. He was called by his sister late on Wednesday morning, and seeing that he was still asleep she did not disturb him.

About eleven o'clock she called him again, and being unable to arouse him called a physician. On his arrival he realized the man was in a serious condition, having slept for eighteen hours, and ordered him sent to the hospital. Attempts to counteract the drug taken failed, and he died without regaining consciousness.

Lived With Sister

The deceased has not been well for some time and suffered with frequent headaches. He must have taken a heavy dose of the medicine, as the bottle left at his bedside was nearly empty. Two years ago his wife died at Lorain, and since then has lived with his sister. He is survived by three small sons, his sister, Mrs. Andrewski, and several other brothers and sisters, and has a mother living in Berea.

HOUSE OF DAVID ELOPEMENT HALTED

ST. JOSEPH, Mich, April 26.—The "fallen pillar" of the House of David, Benjamin Hill, who fled from the colony last night with Lillian Hannaford, wife of William Hannaford, and was intercepted by the sheriff, revealed the mysterious customs and practices of the cult before the state's grand jury investigation today.

It is understood that the secrets of the "block" marriages at the colony was revealed by Hill. Hill has been married, according to the drawings of lots system practiced at the colony, but his wife later fled and Hill fell in love with Mrs. Hannaford. She, too, it is said, was wedded to Hannaford by the orders of "King" Benjamin Purnell and "Queen Mary" and never lived with her husband.

Hill said he had been in love with Mrs. Hannaford for some time but that "King" Benjamin objected to the affair.

The testimony of Hill struck a deep and telling blow at the story of Benjamin's lieutenants, that the girls and youths married recently, were all in love with one another and desired to consummate their happiness before any drastic action against the colony by the state.

"The marriages are arranged entirely by the choice of Benjamin and Mary," Hill said.

Hill said, "The men have very little to say in the matter, neither have the girls, but if there are two men equally willing to marry a certain girl, she is given her choice. Some times men of fifty are married to little girls of 17 and 18."

A fill between Judge Dingeman, who is conducting the investigation and T. W. Dewhirst, attorney for the cult, over the jailing of Phoebe Robertson, a defense witness, from the House of David, enlivened the proceedings. The verbal dispute ended when Sheriff Bridgman "collared" the cult attorney. Later Dewhirst apologized to Judge Dingeman.

AVIATORS TO ATTEMPT TRANSCONTINENTAL FLIGHT

WASHINGTON, April 26.—Lieutenants John A. MacReady and Oakley Kelly left Bolling Field today for New York in the giant monoplane T-2.

As soon as weather permits they will hop off from Mitchell Field in an attempt to make a nonstop transcontinental flight to San Diego, Cal.

ADMIT 500 REFUGEES

WASHINGTON, April 26.—President Harding today approved plans of Secretary of War Weeks and Chairman John Barton Payne of the American Red Cross to bring 500 Russian refugees, now marooned in the Philippines, to the United States in an army transport, declared this afternoon.

STATE SAYS CULT NEWLYWEDS "FIBBED"

Two of the fourteen brides in the House of David's latest group wedding.

Questioned during the state's probe of "King Ben's" House of David colony at Benton Harbor, Mich., fourteen girl brides denied that King Ben had married them off without their consent after wronging them. They were brides in the colony's latest group wedding recently.

HALT WORK ON RAISING SHIP FIRING RANGE

Delay Expending $6,500,000 to Keep on Par With England and Japan

WASHINGTON, April 26.—Fearing that the elevation of the gun turrets of American warships to increase their firing range would lead to a protest from Great Britain on the ground that the United States had violated the terms of the Washington naval treaty, President Harding has ordered that the navy's modernization program be held in abeyance pending action by the next congress, it was announced officially at the navy department today.

Congress has already appropriated $6,500,000 to elevate the guns, the money being set aside when the president, Secretary of State Hughes and Secretary Denby informed the senate and house that this expenditure was necessary to give the American battle fleet the same efficiency as the navies of Great Britain and Japan.

British Make Denial.

Formal denial was made, however, by the British government that the firing range of British warships had been increased, and this was followed immediately by retractions from Secretary Hughes and acting Secretary of the Navy

Auerbach Cousin To Face Hearing On Booze Charge

Three Stills, Hair Tonic, Vat, Pure Alcohol Found in Attic, Dry Raiders Assert

CLEVELAND, April 26.—Police early today raided the home of William Weisman, a cousin of Abraham and Louis Auerbach, now serving prison terms in Atlanta penitentiary for participation in a "million dollar hair tonic conspiracy," and found, according to Chief Corlett of the East Cleveland police force, three 100-gallon stills, fifty gallons of alcohol and 35 cases of empty bottles labeled "hair tonic."

Weisman was arrested as he returned to his home after the raid, and according to police, admitted that he had been engaged in distilling alcohol from hair tonic.

The conspiracy which resulted in the conviction in federal court of the Auerbachs was, according to federal officials, one of the largest ever uncovered and was said to have netted the participants close to $1,000,000.

Both Auerbachs, together with Samuel Rembrandt, an attorney convicted of offering a bribe to Fred Counts, former prohibition agent, are now in jail here, where they were brought to testify before a federal grand jury.

PUSH SUGAR PROSECUTION

WASHINGTON, April 26.—The position of the government in its civil prosecution of New York sugar speculators has been greatly improved by the certificate filed in the United States district court to secure an early hearing of the case, acting attorney general Seymour declared this afternoon.

"BALL-CHAIN BILL" VETOED BY GOVERNOR

Superintendent of Anti-Saloon League Attacks Donahey For Killing Measure

"I was not surprised that Governor Donahey vetoed the Liggett Election Bill; he ought to have done so," says Senator J. F. Burke this afternoon. "I called attention to the Senate at the time they passed this Bill that he would do so, and I argued against its passage in the closing moments of the Senate.

"I believe his suggestions of giving to the people extended powers of nominating independent candidates, are wise and right," continued Mr. Burke. "I am not in favor of passing additional measures at this time, but I shall propose and urge that a measure in harmony with the Governor's suggestion be enacted to grant the power to the citizens in communities larger than two thousand, to nominate independent candidates if the citizens feel the need in the interests of good government."

COLUMBUS, April 26.—Governor Donahey has vetoed the Finefrock socalled "ball and chain" bill, which provided that men convicted of misdemeanors might be required to work on the roads if unable to pay their fines, and that women should be committed to the Marysville reformatory for like offenses if unable to pay.

The governor also vetoed the Wendt bill, authorizing Franklin county commissioners to pay E. Elford, Columbus contractor, $23,231 for expenses alleged to have been incurred in carrying out an illegal contract for bridge construction.

"Laws that make a convict of a poor man, and permit a rich man to escape with a fine, will not be approved by me, so long as I am governor of Ohio," said the veto message on the Finefrock bill, the shortest on record in Ohio.

James a White, superintendent of the anti-saloon league, which sponsored the bill, immediately after the veto issued a statement attacking the governor's action, and declared that the reason given by the governor could be made applicable to every criminal statute of the state and nation.

"The veto means that the governor prefers to allow first offenders who are committed to jail in default of payment of fines, to remain in jail with hardened criminals who are awaiting the action of the grand jury rather than have these first offenders out in the open working for not less than $1.50 a day, and an opportunity to earn something for their dependents," Superintendent White declared.

The governor branded the Wendt bill as "most vicious legislation," and declared if the bill were to become law "it would put a premium upon carelessness and disregard of laws on the part of our officials."

Kills Five Others

Five note bills were vetoed today by Governor Donahey. Darke, Troy and Piqua are denied their requests for abandonment of portions of the Miami and Erie canal through those cities as a result of the governor's disapproval of bills by Representatives Spidel, Montgomery county, Albaugh, Miami

EXPLOSION FEAR IS BLAMED

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., April 26.—Radio advices received this afternoon via the Northhead radio station reported that the crew of 46 on board the former U. S. shipping board freighter Brush which went on the rocks at Cape Arago, on the Oregon coast, was being rescued by the Coos Bay life saving station boats.

LONDON, April 26.—Two hundred and thirty seven persons—138 passengers and 99 seamen—are missing from an abandoned Portuguese passenger steamship off the African coast, said a Cape Town dispatch to the Daily Express today.

Had 138 Passengers

A vessel picked up an "S. O. S." from the Portugese steamer Messamenes. Search revealed the ship deserted and helpless. Investigation showed she hailed from Portuguese ports and had carried 138 passengers as well as a crew of 99. All had taken refuge in lifeboats. The relief ship reported it was searching for the boats.

Advices received late in the afternoon said the 237 persons from the Mossamedes were still missing. The passengers included 29 women and 35 children.

Carried Dynamite

The Mossamedes, a vessel of 4,600 tons, hailed from Lisbon.

The steamship Port Victor which went to the assistance of the Mossamedes, reported that she carried dynamite in her cargo. The condition of the deserted vessel indicated she was in no immediate danger of sinking. It was assumed that the seamen and passengers, fearing pounding of the high seas would explode the dynamite, decided to flee in the small boats.

Heavy seas were running and the Mossamedes was wallowing at a dangerous angle when the Port Victor arrived on the scene. After making sure there was no one on board the Port Victor began a search of nearby waters and sent out wireless messages for other vessels to join the hunt.

VALENTINE BATHONY IS HIT BY MACHINE

Valentine Bathony, 220 West River street, was struck by an automobile this morning at the corner of East Broad and East River street, while riding his bicycle to work. He was riding directly behind a truck and the auto coming the other way cut in sharply not seeing him in time to avoid the collision.

He was thrown to the pavement, his bicycle smashed, and he received a cut on his left hand and bruises on his face.

The driver of the auto took him home, and took his bicycle to have it repaired, promising to adjust all damages, but Bathony did not get his name.

ALBERTINA RALOFF, 81, DIED WEDNESDAY

Mrs. Albertina Raloff, 81, died last night at the home of her daughter, Mrs. William L. Fe, 240 Harvard avenue. She has been ill for the past four years. She formerly lived in Lorain, and has been a resident of the county in the past forty-nine years.

She is survived by four children, Albert and Frank, of Lorain, Mrs. Life, and Mrs. Schaub, of Elyria, has a brother in Lorain, eight grandchildren and four great grandchildren.

She was a member of the German Evangelical church at Lorain. Funeral services will be held at the Sudro funeral home Saturday afternoon at 1 o'clock, conducted by Rev. Edwin Kirby. Burial in Elmwood cemetery.

LAFOLLETTE FLAYS COURT

WASHINGTON, April 26. Although the technical penalty today among opponents of the Harding-Hughes-Hoover world court proposal that the president had precipitated a schism in the republican party by his declared plan for American participation, only one voice, that of Senator Robert M. LaFollette, of Wisconsin—was raised in open protest against the administration's program.

BRITISH ROYALTY HOLD 2nd WEDDING DURING PAST YEAR

LONDON, April 26.—The second wedding in the British royal family in a little more than a year took place in Westminister Abbey today when the Duke of York, second son of King George and Queen Mary, was married to Lady Elizabeth Bowes Lyon, daughter of the Earl and Countess of Strathmore, an old and noble Scottish family. The ceremony was performed at noon in the presence of a brilliant assemblage.

Use Ring Ceremony.

The ring ceremony of the High Episcopal church was used. Like that of Princess Mary (Viscountess Lascelles) the ring for the bride today was made of gold mined in Wales.

Seldom has a more beautiful bride been seen in the gloomy and historic old abbey. Half stifled exclamations rose from the women as the bride—a petite figure with raven black hair—was led to the altar looking like a veritable fairy princess in her girlish wedding gown.

It had rained early in the morning, but shortly after 9 o'clock the sun struggled through the clouds, shinning at intervals until after the ceremony.

The crowd which viewed the procession to the abbey was larger than that when the Princess Mary was married last February. Cheers which greeted the coach containing the bride were more vociferous than those which greeted even the royal family. Elizabeth was plainly a popular figure with the public. There were many Americans in the crowd, some of whom had held their stations all night to prevent losing them.

As the Duke of York entered his carriage at Buckingham Palace a volume of cheering rippled over the crowd jamming the nearby streets. The duke, soldier-like in his air force uniform, blushed as he acknowledged it.

Double Procession.

The double procession to the abbey was without incident. As Elizabeth left her carriage to enter the church the sun came out brightly and the cheers increased as this was regarded as a sign of good luck. Elizabeth smiled at the crowd.

Elizabeth and her father had ridden to the abbey in a state coach resplendent with gold and crimson trappings. The coachmen wore crimson capes, gilt trimmed cocked hats and boots. Four policemen, mounted on white horses, preceded the coach.

It was reported that King George had conferred the title of Royal highness upon Elizabeth, giving her precedence as the "fourth lady in the land." She takes rank immediately under Mary.

The great organ of the abbey, hidden away in a dim recess, played softly during most of the ceremony, the chords rumbling deep afid strong like distant thunder. After the service the choir sang Mendelssohn's wedding march, accompanied by the organ.

The abbey was filled to capacity. The dim light that filtered from the high windows threw into relief the colored frocks of the women against the dull uniforms of the men.

CONTRACT LET FOR $140,000 MOOSE HOME

The Loyal Order of Moose at a meeting last night authorized the building committee and trustees to close a contract with the Hunkin-Conkey Co., who were contractors on the new bank building for the erection of their new lodge and club rooms on West Second Street.

The new building will be two stories and a basement, and is to cost $140,000 complete. The plans for the building are nearly complete and it is expected that work will be begun within the next ten days. The contractors state that they expect to have the building completed before the first of the year.

LIMA ATTORNEY ARRESTED IN YANK FEE

TOLEDO, April 26.—Benjamin F. Welty, Lima attorney and former member of congress from the fourth district, will be arraigned in federal court here tomorrow on a charge of unlawfully soliciting and receiving a fee for the collection of a soldier claim.

Welty was indicted secretly by the grand jury, which finished its work last Monday.

In a statement issued from his home last night, Welty denied he was guilty of any crime or wrong doing.

The indictment, it was learned here today, grew out of the preparation and execution of papers for the presentation and collection of a claim for compensation for Frank lin R. Strayer from the bureau of war risk insurance. Strayer is now in the Toledo state hospital.

Correspondence and recipts signed by Welty during the course of the adjustment were obtained by an investigator of the department of justice and placed before the grand jury.

The indictment charges Welty with having obtained $1274.64 for collecting Strayer's compensation. The government regulations permit a charge of $3 for this service.

REOPEN NAVY WAGE QUESTION

WASHINGTON, April 26.—Because of protests of labor organizations and individuals against the government's new wage schedule for navy yard employes, Secretary of the Navy Denby has ordered the reopening of the entire question and the revision of scales which were to go into effect on May 1, it was announced officially today.

TAX ON LUXURIES DISCLOSES NATION VERY PROSPEROUS

WASHINGTON, April 26.—American buyers are banking up a new record this year, especially in the purchases of luxuries, the internal revenue announced today.

Automobile valued at $2,000,000,000 were sold in the United States in the nine months ended with March, an increase of about $500,000,000. Manufacturers paid into the treasury $181,000,000 upon these sales, after the five per cent tax had been collected from the purchasers. Automobile taxes for that period exceeded by $27,000,000 the collections from the same source in the corresponding period a year ago.

Total taxes paid in nine months amounted to $228,000,000, an increase of $24,000,000 over last year. This increase is attributed almost entirely to the growth of the cigarette habit among the younger generation including young women. Tobacco manufacturers say women smokers are increasing at a tremendous rate, and are responsible for a substantial percentage of the larger demands at the factories.

THREE ELYRIANS ARE ARRESTED AT LORAIN

LORAIN, April 26.—Three Elyria young men were arrested by the police last night and are now locked up charged with reckless driving on Broadway. Arthur Gibson and William Lehman are held on this charge and F. A. King, is charged with disorderly conduct. The police say they had been drinking. The car they drove bore an Indiana license, and an effort is being made to learn if the machine was stolen.

Tagging the Bases

Herb Pennock, last of the Boston refugees, pitched the Yanks to a 7 to 1 decision over the Senators.

The Reds spoiled a perfectly good opening day for the Cardinals by swarming over Pfeffer in the ninth, scoring three runs, and won, 3 to 1.

Finally coming a cropper after winning seven straight, the Chicago Cubs fell before the Pirates and Cooper's left handed ways. Score 7 to 3.

For the second time in as many days, the Tigers beat the Indians in the ninth. Sewell's error, two infield outs and Uhle's wild pitch producing the winning runs. Score 2 to 1.

The Phils took a running jump into the delivery of Benton in the seventh, scored three runs and beat the Braves by a score of 3 to 2. Ralph Head, recruit pitcher from Hartford, Conn., held the Braves to five hits.

Behind the consistent pitching of Ferguson, the Red Sox defeated the Athletics, 3 to 1.

MATTY HIS OWN AGAIN

NEW YORK, April 26.—Christy Mathewson will return to the scene of his greatest triumphs today when the Boston Braves meet his old team mates, the New York Giants, in the opening game of the local national league season. Mattie, however, will not return as the great pitcher of other days, but as the president and directing head of the Braves.

Under the English law the wife of a criminal is legally justified in doing all she can, short of committing another crime, to shield her husband from justice; although any other person doing so would be liable to be charged as an accessory after the fact. But a husband is forbidden to shield his wife who is a criminal. His duty is to hand her over to the officers of justice.

LEGAL NOTICES

RESOLUTION NO. 1041

DECLARING THE INTENTION OF THE COUNCIL OF THE CITY OF ELYRIA, STATE OF OHIO, THAT THE LORAIN STREET RAILROAD COMPANY, SUCCESSOR OF THE LORAIN STREET RAILWAY COMPANY SHALL DISCONTINUE THE OPERATION OF CARS IN LODI STREET IN THE CITY OF ELYRIA.

WHEREAS the franchise heretofore granted to The Lorain Street Railway Company, which franchise was taken over by its successor The Lorain Street Railroad Company, the right to operate its cars in, through and over Lodi Street in said City from the private right-of-way of said Company to North street, and the right to maintain tracks, poles, wires, switches, wyes, etc. for such purpose, is expired by limitation, and

WHEREAS it is apparent to this Council that no new franchise agreement will be entered into with said Company for the operation of its cars in Lodi Street in said City, and that said Company shall, upon the taking effect of this resolution, discontinue the operation of its said cars in, through and over Lodi Street in said city, and shall within a reasonable time thereafter remove from said Lodi Street all its tracks, poles, wires and other property.

NOW THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED by the Council of the City of Elyria, State of Ohio:

SECTION 1. That it is the intention of the Council of the City of Elyria, that no franchise shall be granted to The Lorain Street Railroad Company whereby it shall have the right to operate its cars in, through and over Lodi Street in the City of Elyria or to maintain tracks, poles, wires, switches and wyes therefor in said street.

SECTION 2. That said Company shall upon the taking effect of this resolution discontinue the operation of its cars in, through and over Lodi Street in said City and shall within a reasonable time thereafter remove all tracks, poles, wires and other equipment from said Street in said City.

SECTION 3. That the Clerk of Council be and he hereby is directed to cause a copy of this resolution to be mailed, by registered mail, to the General Manager of said Company.

SECTION 4. That this resolution shall take effect and be in force from and after the earliest period allowed by law.

Passed April 16th, 1923.
GERALD S. MARTIN,
President of Council.
Attest DAVID W. HAMLIN,
Clerk.

ORDINANCE NO. 2587

Adopting a grade for Mill Street [illegible] the center line [illegible] of the east bound high speed track of the railroad of The New York Central Railroad Company [illegible] 212 feet north of the center line of said railroad tracks, and amending Sections two and five of Ordinance No. [illegible] passed August [illegible]

WHEREAS the grade of Mill Street adopted by Ordinance No. [illegible] [illegible]

BE IT ORDAINED by the Council of the City of Elyria [illegible]

SECTION 1. That Sections Two and Five of Ordinance No. [illegible] be amended [illegible]

Beginning at a point in the center line of Mill Street 146.1 feet south of the center line of the east-bound high speed track of The New York Central Railroad Company, at an elevation of 152.25 N. Y. C. datum; thence descending in a northerly direction upon a grade of 7.25 percent, 80.00 feet to an elevation of 146.42; thence on a vertical curve 40.00 feet to an elevation of 144.52; thence on a descending grade of 1.9 percent, 105.5 feet to an elevation of 142.52; thence on a vertical curve 40.00 feet to an elevation of 142.50; thence on an ascending grade 52.00 feet to an elevation of 143.45; thence on a vertical curve 40.00 feet to an elevation of 143.81. Said point being 212.00 feet north of the center line of the eastbound high speed track of The New York Central Railroad Company.

SECTION 2. This ordinance shall be in full force and effect at the earliest date provided by law after its passage, due publication, and the acceptance in writing hereof, filed with the Clerk of the Council, by The New York Central Railroad Company and The Parsch Lumber Company, and said acceptance by said Companies shall be a waiver of any claim for damages on account of such established grade.

Passed April 16th, 1923.
GERALD S. MARTIN,
President of Council.

LEGAL NOTICE
Case No. 20085

Stephen V. R. Freeman, Laura Freeman, Dorliska Freeman, Sevill Freeman, the unknown heirs, devisees, legatees, creditors and personal representatives of them and either of them, will take notice that on March 21, 1923, Cyrus R. Dawson and Stella E. Dawson filed their petition in the Court of Common Pleas of Lorain County, Ohio, being Case No. 20085 on the Docket of said Court against the above named defendants alleging that said petitioners are the owners in fee simple, in common, and in the actual possession and occupancy of the following described premises, situated in the Township of LaGrange, County of Lorain and State of Ohio, and known as being part of lot No. fifty-four (54) in said township, and described as follows: Bounded, commencing at the center of the east and west center road in said township, at a point in the easterly line of a three acre tract of land owned by John King; thence eastwardly along the center of the center road to a ten acre tract of land now owned by said King; thence southwardly along the westerly line of said ten acre tract of said King to land owned by Charles E. Moulder and Edna C. Moulder; thence westwardly along the northerly line of said land owned by said Moulders far enough that a line drawn parallel with the easterly line of the tract herein conveyed, shall contain ten (10) acres of land; thence northwardly in the easterly line of said Moulder's land and of said King three acres to the place of beginning, containing ten (10) acres of land.

That the defendants and each of them claim some interest in said premises adverse and hostile to plaintiffs in this to-wit: On Nov. 2, 18[illegible] one George L. Freeman and Jane [illegible] Freeman, his wife, then the owners of said premises, made and delivered to defendant Stephen V. R. Freeman and Laura Freeman their mortgage upon said premises to secure the $5,000, bond of said date providing for certain benefits to all of said defendants, which mortgage is in the sum of $2200, and is of record in Volume 7, page 510, Lorain County Ohio, Record of Mortgages, and is uncanceled of record, although plaintiffs aver that the conditions of said bond and mortgage have been fully performed.

That said plaintiffs and their predecessors in title have been in open, notorious, adverse and undisputed possession of said premises ever since date of said mortgage, and under claim of right thereto, and whatever interest or claim said defendants or any of them may have had in the premises herein above described has long since been barred by the statute of limitations; and said defendants and each of them have in fact, no right, title or interest in or to said premises, and their claim is unfounded, and is a cloud upon the plaintiffs' title.

Plaintiffs pray that said defendants and each of them, be required to answer setting forth what, if any, claim or interest they have or claim to have in and to said premises; that plaintiff's title in and to the premises above described may be quieted as against said defendants; that each of said defendants be forever enjoined from claiming any right, title or interest in or to the premises above described; that their claims thereto may be forever barred, and that said plaintiffs may have all other and further relief to which they may be entitled in law and equity.

Said defendants are required to answer on or before the 12th day of May, 1923, or judgment will be taken against them accordingly.

A LESSON FROM HERRIN

We have spoken frequently of class legislation; of the organized effort of groups to accomplish certain things legislatively. Parts of the same kind of work are found in the movements of organizations to take the law into their own hands and execute it. Few more important questions can come before the citizens for their consideration. Apropos of this idea, we would quote a comment from a current journal, on the Herrin acquital and the Arkansas lynchings, as follows:

"Acquittal of the second group of defendants in the Herrin, Illinois, trials, and the failure of the State of Arkansas to take any steps toward punishment of the open-shoppers who forcibly deported, whipped, and even hung union men along the line of the Missouri and North Arkansas Railroad, reveals once more the part that economic lines play in American life. The trials at Herrin were not in any real sense of the word judicial proceedings; they were a duel between the Illinois Manufacturers' Association, working through the machinery of the State, and the United Mine Workers, in which the latter, aided by local sympathy, won. The State made no attempt to punish anyone for the murder of two union miners which preceded the slaughter of the non-union workers; it leaped eagerly to any chance of linking the miners' union with the latter killings. The trial was not so much an attempt to convict individuals for a crime as to convict an organization. Inevitably the local community and the miners' union accepted the challenge. Hundreds must have known the guilty, but no one has been convicted, and the prosecution has felt compelled to drop the remaining indictments. Terrible as it seems, the union community apparently approved the killings, much as a Southern countryside approves a lynching, and just as the non-union communities of northwest Arkansas approve the riotous course of the citizens' committee which did not stop at hanging in its determination to end a strike. No serious effort has been made at punishment in Arkansas; the dictatorship of the open-shoppers continues. The lynching has become merely 'a regrettable incident.' It is a healthy thing for Americans to pause, in denouncing the Bolsheviki and the Fascisti, and to reflect upon class violence in their United States."

AS MURPHY SEES IT

A few days ago Charles Murphy Tammany's Chief, sued a man in a sugar deal for $175,000. Mr. Murphy testified in the case. In the course of the testimony he was asked, "Was it not a Democratic Administration in 1918?" Mr. Murphy replied, "They claimed it was, but it didn't do me any good."

We can imagine the smile that would lurk around ex-President Wilson's face if he had heard that remark by Mr. Murphy. As to whether it was a real Democratic Administration in Mr. Murphy's mind is determined entirely on whether it did him any "good." This is the conception that the class of politicians of which Mr. Murphy is a good example, has of political parties, and unfortunately these are the ones who make up the test of what shall be considered party loyalty.

Whatever criticism we can make of the administration of President Wilson, we know that it was not run in the interest of Murphy. We had suspicions of this before; Mr. Murphy has verified it. The most dangerous man in our body politic is not the one who with hair disheveled and a red bandana around his neck with a flaming torch in one hand and a bomb in the other, proposes to destroy the State House; the police will take care of him. All society sees the danger there. But the real man who is dangerous is the one who conceives that party organization should be and can be and is run in the interests of certain groups and by a political boss whom this group employs to do their will. This is the dangerous man because he is suave, slick, well-dressed, well-fed, and moves in so-called good society, but his work is subversive to the purposes of government.

AND HE SMILES

Well, the excitement is over in New York State. Mr. Wm. H. Anderson is still superintendent of the Anti-Saloon League with the confidence of the great body of church people and apparently stronger than ever. Mr. Anderson is able to penetrate into the motives behind criticism and opposition and he comes out of the recent fracas with the strength of the enemy added to his own.

Some think that the success is measured by the number you catch. It's measured by the fun you have and God made the rivers and the lakes and he didn't want you to hide your light under a bushel, so get up early some morning and go out and try your luck.

Don't worry about the fish. Lester will sell you an armfull for a dollar. But the big outdoors is calling, and if you miss it, you miss something.

Only tough thing is you'll want to keep it up and here's hoping you will. Medicine don't hurt, but maybe you won't need it.

There's not many fish in the Vermilion river, but, there's a lot of fun. Dig yourself some worms and see if you can catch a few.

POEMS THAT LIVE

APPLE BLOSSOMS

Have you seen an apple orchard in
In the spring?
In the spring?
An English apple orchard in the spring?
When the spreading trees are hoary
With their wealth of promised glory,
And the mavis pipes his story
In the spring!

Have you plucked the apple blossoms in the spring?
In the spring?
And caught their subtle odors in the spring?
Pink buds bursting at the light,
Crumpled petals baby-white,
Just to touch them a delight!
In the spring!

Have you seen a merry bridal in the spring?
In the spring?
In an English apple country in the spring?
When the bride and maidens wear
Apple blossoms in their hair;
Apple blossoms everywhere,
In the spring?

If you have not, then you know not, in the spring,
In the spring,
Half the color, beauty, wonder of the spring.
No sight can I remember,
Half so precious, half so tender,
As the apple blossoms render
In the spring!
—William Wesley Martin

ALL'S WELL

The cloud which rise with thunder, slake
Our thirsty souls with rain;
The blow most dreaded falls to break
From off our limbs a chain;
The wrongs of man to man but make
The love of God more plain
As through the shadowy lens of even
The eye looks farthest into heaven
On gleams of star and depths of blue
The glaring sunshine never knew!
— John Greenleaf Whittier.

MRS. COOLIDGE'S FATHER DIES

BURLINGTON, Vt., April 26.—Andrew I. Goodhue, 75, father of Mrs. Calvin Coolidge, wife of Vice President Coolidge, died at his home here today. He had been in poor health for some time. Goodhue leaves a wife and one daughter, the wife of the vice president.

STEAL $100,000 SILK

PATERSON, N. J., April 26.—A truck loaded with silk valued at $100,000 was seized today by ten armed men but was abandoned when one of the bandits drove the truck into a ditch. The silk was the property of nine Paterson mills and was consigned to dealers in Allentown, Pa.

TIMELY VIEWS ON WORLD TOPICS

"JAPAN HAS OUTSTRIPPED U. S. AND BRITAIN IN CRUISER-BUILDING"

Counting the ships under construction, Japan now has a supply of cruisers of the small type that exceeds in strength the supply of both the United States and Great Britain combined, asserts Dr. C. K. Edmonds of Canton Christian College, now in New York. The cruisers can really be used to transport large numbers of Japanese troops to China's mainland, he says.

Although Japan is the third largest producer of copper in the world, avers Dr. Edmonds, she has recently purchased in the United States more copper than she has produced. On his recent trip through Southern Manchuria he noticed that every bridge on the railroad was being fortified by the erection of concrete turrets.

Discussing the Washington Conference for the limitation of armaments, Dr. Edmonds declares that Japan brought the question of Shantung to the fore in order to divert interest from Manchuria. The question of Shantung, he continues, had practically been settled before the conference, for the Chinese boycott had brought the merchant class of Japan into sharp conflict with her military class. As for the evacuation of Shantung last January, this had been technically accomplished by Japan, but that nation still held title to many coal mines.

The open door "is about as closed in China as it has ever been," he believes. Discussing the foreign railway concessions in China he says that in his opinion not much progress in railway building and transportation will be made until "the slate was wiped clean" of concessionaires and the railway building is placed on firm economic ground and divorced from any political "taint."

As for education, China is not so slow as might be suspected. When he went to China in 1903 there were 1,247 students in the schools that were conducted along modern lines. Practically all the schools of the nation were conducted in much the same way they had been managed since the time of Abraham. By 1905, approximately 5,000 schools had been established, and the latest figures indicated the presence of 150,000 schools, with 5,000,000 pupils.

WHO'S WHO IN THE DAY'S NEWS

REAR ADMIRAL EDW. W. EBERLE.

The appointment of Rear Admiral Edward W. Eberle as chief of naval operations by Secretary Denby in the recent shift of officers is another indication of the high regard held for Admiral Eberle's ability as a navy man. He has been commander of the battle fleet.

ADMIRAL EBERLE

Admiral Eberle was born at Denton, Texas, August 17, 1864. He was graduated from the U. S. Naval Academy in 1885. Eberle has risen steadily from the time he was appointed ensign in 1887. He has commanded the Milwaukee, the Wheeling, the Washington and the receiving ship at the New York navy yard. He served two terms as instructor at the Naval Academy and as superintendent of the academy from 1915 to 1919. He has twice attended the war college, commanded the Atlantic torpedo flotilla, commanded the navy yard at Washington, D. C., and commanded battleship division No. 5, Atlantic fleet, 1919-20, battleship division No. 7 since 1920. He was awarded a Distinguished Service Medal for meritorious service in the World war.

In the battle of Santiago he had charge of the forward turrent guns of the Oregon, which inflicted terrible damage on the fleeing Spanish ships.

Thirty-five Years Ago

A SERIES OF STAKE HORSE races at the fair grounds were arranged for. There were events for two-year-olds, three-year-olds and four-year-olds on the program.

THE CITY COUNCIL AUTHORIZED the purchase of a lot on Eighth street for the location of a new fire station.

THE COUNCIL ALSO AUTHORIZED the mayor to have all the village ordinances printed in book form, for the guidance of the police in enforcing them.

THE WOMAN'S SUFFRAGE ASsociation was formed and was holding regular meetings in the office of Mrs. Dr. Warren.

FRANK BURKERT, THE FIRST democrat to be elected village marshal assumed his position and carried a large cane as his emblem of authority.

THE LAKE SHORE RAILROAD reported that during the past year they had sold 59,922 tickets from this station and had received $42,531 for the same. Elyria was rated sixth in passenger traffic of all the stations from Buffalo to Chicago.

A RAW, SORE THROAT

Eases Quickly When You Apply a Little Musterole

And Musterole won't blister like the old-fashioned mustard plaster. Just spread it on with your fingers. It penetrates to the sore spot with a gentle tingle, loosens the congestion and draws out the soreness and pain.

Musterole is a clean, white ointment made with oil of mustard. It is fine for quick relief from sore throat, bronchitis, tonsilitis, croup, stiff neck, asthma, neuralgia, headache, congestion, pleurisy, rheumatism, lumbago, pains and aches of the back or joints, sprains, sore muscles, bruises, chilblains, frosted feet, colds on the chest. Keep it handy for instant use. 35c and 65c, jars and tubes; hospital size, $3.00.

WOMEN REBELS ARE RELEASED

DUBLIN, April 26.—A heavy gust of firing and bomb explosions broke out early today when irregular snipers began an attack from roof tops on free state troops patrolling O'Connell street. Bombs were thrown from the roofs, but they failed to do any damage beyond tearing up the street.

The free staters returned the fire. Republican military headquarters announced that the irregulars had sustained no casualties.

Rumors circulated in Paris and London that Esmonn DeValera had been captured near Cork ano the news withheld were branded as false by free state officials.

Miss Ryan, sister of Minister of Defense Richard Mulcahy, and Miss O'Neill, two women members of the republican irregulars, were released from prison today after having been on hunger strike for thirty days. It is understood that Miss Mary MacSwiney, Miss O'Callaghan and other hunger strikers will be liberated tomorrow.

The Irish Independent predicts an early Irish peace, pointing out that railway traffic, which had been badly upset by irregular depredations, is returning to normal. This newspaper emphasizes the importance of the free state government's decision to arm trustworthy citizens whose loyalty to the Dublin administration is unquestioned.

RAT FAMILY PROLIFIC STATISTICS DISCLOSE

Rat family very prolific to say the least, as young females start breeding when only three months of age. Have eight litters per year and average ten young to the litter. The government estimate on rat population is conservatively estimated at on rat for every member of any city's population. Each rat destroys $1.80 worth of property per year including food stuff. While a rat eats but 1-30 as much as a person per day he will destroy ten times as much as he swallows. The work of rat extermination now being done in Elyria by J. R. Waterhouse, R. R. Keep and F. P. Beaver with borium carbonate is now well under way. Quite a number of local concerns having arranged to have their premises baited tonight.

Aside from their disease-carrying potentialities it is costing the city approximately $20,000.00 per year to maintain its rat population.—Adv.

WANTS SLEEPLESS BRIDE

WASHINGTON, April 26.—Some where there is a mate for John A. Price, 29, of this city, and he set out today to seek her. But his bride must meet his qualifications, which are without precedent.

Price hasn't slept a wink for ten months, he declared, since he had a nervous breakdown. He rests at night, but never sleeps and shows no ill effects. He wants a "sleepless" bride who can stay awake with him 24 hours each day without imperiling her health.

"I believe that if such a match could be made, it would make us both happy," Price said.

FORGED FATHER'S NAME, GIVEN 5 YEARS IN PEN

CHARLESTON, W. Va., April 20.—Myron Corwin, of Huntington, was sentenced today by United States district judge George W. McClintic to serve five years in the Atlanta penitentiary.

McClintic characterized Corwin, who pleaded guilty to a charge of forging the name of his father to a government pension voucher, as "probably the meanest man in America."

Ball-Chain Bill

and Senator Clark, Champaign. The governor also vetoed the Walther bill, relative to clearing titles to property of decedents in counties of which they are non residents and the Hilt bill, authorizing the construction of an improved highway through the Carpenter experiment farm in Meigs county.

Three other canal bills, by Representatives Wise and Davidson, Summit county, were approved by the governor today. Two of the bills, by Representative Wise, authorize the state to lease to Akron certain privileges relative to Summit lake, Akron, for bathing and dock landing purposes, and also authorize the state to sell at private sale to abutting land owners certain canal lands in Akron, and provide for the cancellation of a lease for these canal lands. The Davidson bill grants to the city of Barberton the use of certain waters and lands of the state for waterway and park purposes. These bills were signed, the governor said, because only small portions of canals of no value to the state were affected.

Holds Canal Valuable

In vetoing the Dayton, Troy and Piqua canal abandonment bills, the governor said that he opposed the unbusinesslike methods which have obtained in the past, and was "convinced that the state should retain and hold its title to all canal lands, including terminals."

"The property sought to be abandoned to these cities belongs to the people of Ohio, and is worth approximately $650,000. The abandonment of Ohio canals, in my opinion, is a travesty. Let us take steps that will protect what is left of Ohio's old waterways, and end forever all canal land barters by future general assemblies," the governor said.

Suggests New Law

The governor recommended that a general law be enacted," providing that the governor, the attorney general and the superintendent of public works be authorized to make long time leases, with reappraisal at least every 25 years, to individuals, corporations, municipalities and other taxing districts on fair and equitable terms. Such leases should be granted with the right of renewal, but subject always to the right of the state to resume use for canal purposes. Titles in these lands should forever be retained by the state."

Kills Lipp Bill

The governor vetoed the Lipp bill, he said, because the interests of persons who could not afford to have the title of land they purchased examined by lawyers or other experts, would be better safeguarded under the existing law.

"The interests of such will be better safeguarded by continuing to require a certificate of the court in all cases of lands passing by will. As between the method now followed and that proposed in the bill there is not much difference in expense, so in that particular there is nothing to be gained," the governor declared.

And by Representative Lipp, Cincinnati, providing that an affidavit of the decisee be substituted for the certificate of the probate court in conveying property which has descended through the terms of a will.

It was learned today that the governor, late yesterday, also had vetoed the Taft bill, which would have increased the salaries of members of the state tax commission from $4000 to $6000 annually. To date Governor Donahey has vetoed 74 bills.

SUES ON NOTES

Suit has been begun in court by P. W. Heineman of Columbia, against S. J. Rogers, to collect $188.63 claimed to be due on two notes. He also obtained an injunction to prevent the defendant from disposing of any of his real estate.

her announced resolution not to talk.

"I am told that a man is coming here from Los Angeles and I prefer to wait for him to say whether or not I am Clara Phillips," she said. "It would not do me any good to answer the other questions you have asked me. Don't ask me any more."

The prison laughed to show she bore no ill feelings over the reporter's curiosity.

Claim They're Sisters

The two women claim to be sisters, but they are wholly unlike in appearance. The woman who is posing here as Mrs. Young is slight in stature with blonde hair done up in a pompadour. She has prominent blue eyes and speaks with an accent slightly Germanic. She refused to say anything at all.

Jesse Carson and Mrs. Young are held in the penitentiary. Carson was arrested on instructions from the Honduran consul at Los Angeles, who cabled his name and description but did not reveal the charge against him. He has waived extradition but both women have refused to do so.

Under the Honduran law a native can only be held six days with out any definite charge being lodged against him. Foreigners may be held two months pending the arrival of extradition papers.

If the Carson party contains criminals they made little or no effort to cover up their tracks and were apparently ignorant of the extradition relations existing between this republic and the United States.

Women Are Calm

Carson was greatly shocked by his arrest. His face turned ashen and he gulped as he tried to speak. But not so the women. They were gay and debonair. They took the matter as a joke and bantered the policemen.

"Yes, I will waive extradition. I'm willing to go back" said Carson. "But I don't want those girls to be dragged through the mire."

The party arrived April 19 from Launion, Salvador, in a private gasoline launch. They made the trip from Amapala to Tegucigalpa on a motor truck. It was a trip of eighty miles over mountains and through marshy jungles. The women sat on the seat with the driver while Carson clung to the freight in the bed of the truck. The native driver, used to bouncing over boulders, sent the truck along at a ten mile an hour rate while the passengers clung to the swaying framework. The trip to Tegucigalpa was made in eight hours.

Carson could have hired a special automobile for $50 but the party evidently had to economize. They carried with them three trunks and three suitcases. They went first to the American hotel, but remained only two days, going thence to a rooming house. Carson settled all the bills, paying in gold. But before a week was out the funds evidently started to run low.

Needed Money

The following telegrams were despatched:

"Jackson, opera house, Tampico, Mexico.

"Wire when you are coming. Mrs. R. M. Young."

The reply follows:

"Mrs. R. M. Young.

"Coming. Await letters. Sending Jack. Ben Norton."

The word "Jack" evidently meant money.

It is understood here that the friends of Mrs. Phillips and Carson at Tampico are under surveillance.

At the time of their arrest all members of the party were "broke". Carson had been trying to send a radiogram addressed to "Adams, Galveston, Texas," asking for $500 but the wireless people would not accept the message collect and Carson and his companions could not find anyone to lend them the necessary $10.

To Extradite Trio

This is the first extradition case Tegucigalpa has known in years and it has aroused the populace from its tropic lethargy. Although the two women are really not beautiful, they are reported to be "most lovely Americans." Public interest has been further aroused by the fact that women tourists are a rarity in Tegucigalpa, which is an isolated town set high up in mountains surrounded by jungles. The fact that the accused are both tourists and women has caused a wave of sentiment in their favor.

For the time being the case has settled down in uneventful waiting. Nothing will be done until a representative of the Los Angeles sheriff arrives and that may not be for two or three weeks. Meanwhile the woman known as Mrs. Carson is as safe in her unbarred room as though she were back in San Quentin. The chief says he policemen cannot be bribed and anyhow if the woman did escape she could not travel far as there are no railroads, only mountain trails. She is without funds and cannot speak Spanish, the universal language of the country.

American Minister Morales is acting in his efforts to clear up the case as quickly as possible. He said he wished to determine which woman is Mrs. Phillips so that the other can be released. But the women are standing by each other with a Damon and Pythias bond of friendship.

RETURN $160 VERDICT

A jury this morning returned a verdict for $160 damages in the case of William Decker, against David Barr, of Cleveland. The automobile of the defendant is alleged to have damaged that of the plaintiff some time ago on the Oberlin road.

POLICE RUMMAGE SALE

Police Chief Stankard announced today that the police department would hold their annual rummage sale in front of the city park on Saturday morning. They have a number of bicycles, suit cases, various bundles of clothing and other articles for sale.

ERECT DANGER SIGNS NEAR SCHOOL ZONES

The Lorain County Automobile Club and the Exchange Club have had large white paint signs placed on the pavement at the approach to all school buildings that read, "Drive Slow Don't Kill a Child."

A citizen who noticed the signs, thought the sign would read better if it said "Don't Kill Anybody."

KIWANIS CLUB PLANS TO ATTEND DISTRICT MEET

At the meeting of the Kiwanis club, this noon, plans were discussed for an inter-city meeting with the Cleveland Kiwanis club to be held at Cleveland on May 10th. The attendance prize, donated by Wm. Sudro, was won by Willard Tayler. O. E. Rankin was introducted by Dr. Z. Pitcher as the newest member of the club.

An interesting talk was heard from Professor D. R. Moore of Oberlin college, who took for his subject, "The United States Relation to the Caribbean Islands."

STAMFORD, Conn., April 26.—Draper M. Daugherty, son of Attorney General Daugherty of [illegible] brought to Stamford Hall sanitarium by relatives, "is in a run-down condition, is nervous and needs a rest," Dr. Frank W. Robertson, superintendent of the institution, said in a statement issued today. A long rest will be necessary to restore him to health, the doctor added.

British Royalty

Queen Mary wore an aquamarine blue and silver dress with a draped over dress in which white roses were interwoven, the white rose being the symbol of the House of York.

George Harvey, American ambassador to England, and Mrs. Harvey were the only American guests.

Gives Nuptial Address.

In his nuptial address the archbishop of York said:

"Before this host of witnesses, seen and unseen, you have offered your love to one another and to God. You have received from Him at this altar new life wherein the separate lives you have led now become one until death. With all our hearts we wish it to be a happy union. We are assured you will resolve to make your wedded life a blessing not only to yourselves but to others and not the least of those who, in this world, from toil and struggle, must need the help of a warm and generous heart. We wish you Godspeed, we wish you good luck in the name of the Lord."

Afterwards there was a wedding breakfast at Buckingham Palace when the bride cut the wedding cake with her husband's sword.

Groom Was Nervous.

Upon entering the abbey the bride placed a wreath upon the tomb of the "unknown British warrior."

Before the ceremony began there was a slight hitch in the seating arrangements within the altar rail. Dowager Queen Alexandra, grandmother of the groom, began a whispered conversation with the king and queen during which Prince Henry, brother of the groom, slid into the disputed seat and whispered smilingly with his sister, Viscountess Lascelles. The prince of Wales stopped and straightened out the carpet which had been kicked up.

The Duke of York was first at the altar and proved a nervous groom. He kept turning and watching for the bride. During the service, he smiled while his little bride at his side was demurely dignified. The prince of Wales, who was best man, fidgeted about looked extremely bored.

Intermittent sunshine, like spotlights, flashed through the colored windows of the abbey throughout the ceremony, lighting up the dingy walls. Hundreds of peers and peeresses, army, navy and air force officers, diplomats, officers of state, relatives of the royal family and other guests filled the abbey "bleacher" seats. Only a few could see more than the nuptial procession.

State Briefs

DAYTON, April 26.—Lieutenant Lester J. Maitland, the speed king of the army air service, went out today to race against time over a three kilometer course and "cracked up" a second time.

NEWARK, April 26.—Walter J. Bowers, 45, head of the accounting department of the Davis Creamery Company here, prominent Mason and Kiwanian died here today from pneumonia.

NEWARK, April 26.—A nightingale robin with white breast instead of red, has built its nest in this city. It is the first of this species seen here in fifty years, say old inhabitants.

YOUNGSTOWN, April 26.—After 66 hours of continuous dancing, Miss Bessie Edwards collapsed and became unconscious this morning and was carried from the floor to a hospital. Doctors say her condition is not serious that she is suffering from nervous exhaustion.

IMPROVISED SWING IS CAUSE OF BROKEN LEG

Mason Minnick, 127 Cleveland street, eleven years of age, broke his right leg last evening, while swinging on a vine at his home. The leg was broken near the ankle and he was taken to Elyria Memorial Hospital.

Halt Work

Roosevelt, who was in charge of the navy department during the absence of Secretary Denby in Panama.

In the face of the British denial Secretary Roosevelt insisted that the government should go ahead with its naval modernization program, holding that the navy department had a direct mandate from congress to proceed with the work.

Secretary Hughes, on the other hand, maintained that for the United States to raise the gun turrets would constitute a violation of the Washington treaty, and to avoid a protest from Great Britain, he declared that the program should be halted.

When Secretary Denby returned to Washington the controversy between the navy and state departments was immediately resumed with President Harding as the arbiter.

The president's decision is regarded as a victory for Secretary Hughes, as Denby's announcement today states that he will not touch the money appropriated by congress until explicit orders to use are given by appropriate legislation.

Denby Issues Statement.

Denby issued the following statement:

"During the discussion at the last congress of the proposal to appropriate $6,500,000 for elevating the guns of thirteen battleships of the United States fleet, certain statements were made in regard to the disparity between the ranges of guns of the ships of the British fleet and those of the fleet of the United States. These statements were made in absolutely good faith, but were shown by later reports from the government of Great Britain, to have been exaggerated. While the disparity does exist it is not so great as was then supposed.

"Upon the representations of the navy department, congress appropriated the sum asked for. In view of the discrepancy between the statements of the department and actual conditions, the department has determined not to employ the money appropriated for the purpose of increasing the elevation of the guns of the American fleet until further directed to do so by congress.

"This course has the president's approval."

High naval officials who believe that the United States should modernize its remaining capital ships without regard to the possible disapproval of other powers will go before the 68th congress with a demand that the navy department be given permission to use the $6,500,000, but the belief prevailed in congressional circles today that the money would be returned to the treasury.

At Pisa there is an echo that takes no notice of two sung notes, but if three are uttered they are flung from stone to stone with ever-increasing strength, until after a few seconds it seems as if some mighty choir were singing.

Hear him sing tonight—Who—Jim, with Wallas' orchestra at Century Park tonight.

No remedy can cure all ailments of the human body, but an immense number of people suffer from aches, pains and disease symptoms when their real trouble is lack of iron in the blood. It is the iron in your blood that enables you to get the nourishment out of your food. Without iron your food merely passes through you without doing you any good; you don't get the strength out of it. There is one universally known tonic that has helped thousands because it contains iron like the iron in fresh vegetables and like the iron in your blood.

NUXATED IRON

is an eminent physician's best blood prescription, standardized. It is recommended for all anaemic and run-down conditions. It has helped thousands of others. It should help you. Ask for it at any drug store.

Rheumatic Neuritis

Says His Prescription Completely Banishes All Rheumatic Pains and Twinges—Is Guaranteed

Deep Seated Uric Acid Deposits Are Dissolved and the Rheumatic Poison Starts to Leave the System Within Twenty-four Hours.

Every druggist in this county is authorized to say to every rheumatic sufferer that if a full bottle of ALLENRHU, the sure conqueror of rheumatism, does not show the way to stop the agony, reduce swollen joints and do away with even the slightest twinge of rheumatic pain, he will gladly return your money without comment.

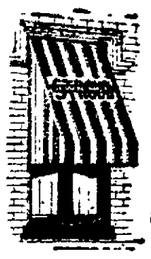

ALLENRHU has been tried and tested for years, and really marvelous results have been accomplished in the most severe cases where the suffering and agony was intense and piteous and where the patient was helpless.

Mr. James H. Allen, of Rochester, N. Y., the discoverer of ALLENRHU, who for many years suffered the torments of acute rheumatism, desires all sufferers to know that he does not want a cent of anyone's money unless ALLENRHU decisively conquers this worst of all diseases, and he has instructed druggists to guarantee it as above in every instance. Harry A. Crandall can supply you.—Advt.

We offer premiums to users of Mother's Oats. All sorts of gifts, for women, men and children. Coupons come in the packages.

Our Premium list pictures 164 gifts. Ask us for it, and we will send with it ten coupons free to start you toward a gift.

Why this brand?

That is only one of the reasons for getting Mother's Oats.

Another is the super-flavor, due to selected grains. Only the richest, plumpest oats are flaked for this brand. Two-thirds of the oats as they come to us are discarded.

So Mother's Oats make a delightful dish. Children welcome it. And it tempts them to eat in plenty the oat-food that they need.

Oats supply 16 needed elements, essential to the growing child. So this dish should always be served at its best.

Yet these extra-flavory flakes bring these gifts with them.

1924 AUTO TAGS TO BE WHITE UPON BLUE

COLUMBUS, April 26 - Automobile license tags for 1924 will have white figures on a dark blue background, Secretary of state Thad H. Brown has announced. These colors have been selected, Secretary Brown said, so that the numbers would be easily discernable. Five hundred tons of steel have been ordered for the tags, which will be made at the penitentiary, work on them to be started at once. It is estimated 1,000,000 pairs will be used.

OMAHA, Neb., April 26.—The national convention of the American economic league, an organization sponsoring the presidential cadidacy of Henry Ford, will be held at Omaha May 29 to June 1, inclusive. According to Roy M. Harrop, president of the league, two thousand persons are expected to attend.

Kidney and Bladder Troubles HAVE TO GO

Clogged up Kidney Deposits are Dissolved and the Toxins (Poisons) Completely Driven Out. Druggists Told to Guarantee It in Every Instance.

"Your very life," says Dr. Carey, "depends upon the perfect functioning and health of your kidneys so whatever you do don't neglect them." Dr. Carey's famous Prescription No. 777 (known for years as Marshroot) is not recommended for everything, but we cannot too strongly urge its use if you suffer from annoying bladder troubles, frequent smarting, or irritation, brick dust sediment or highly colored urine, bloating, irritability with loss of flesh or any other tendency to Bright's Disease, Diabetes or Gravel, for kidney disease in its worst form may be stealing upon you.

Don't wait until to-morrow to begin the use of this wonderful prescription now obtainable in both liquid and tablet form if you have any of the above symptoms. Kidney and Bladder troubles don't wear away. They will grow upon you slowly, stealthily and with unfailing certainty. If you even suspect that you are subject to Kidney Disease, don't lose a single day for Harry A. Crandall and every good druggist has been authorized to return the purchase money on the first big bottle to all who state they have received no benefit.

8 MILE FOREST FIRE IS RAGING IN MARYLAND

HAGERSTOWN, Md., April 26. What was characterized as the most destructive forest fire in the history of this section was still sweeping the mountain at Catoctin Furnace, Maryland, just this side of the Frederick county line early today, after having destroyed thousands of acres of valuable timberland. Between 300 and 400 men, forest wardens, their deputies and residents of the section, have been fighting the eight mile wall of flames since early Monday without food or sleep and many last night fell exhausted.

PATROLMAN CAPTURES FOOTPADS WITH CLUB

CLEVELAND, April 26—Patrolman August Schreiber, disregarding the commands of two robbers he surprised in a holdup in Hamilton Avenue at 4 o'clock this morning, to throw up his hands, used his blackjack with such good effect that he knocked both bandits unconscious.

The man they attempted to rob was George Guides, a taxi driver. He told police he was engaged to drive the men to Hamilton and East 12th and when they reached there they covered him with a gun and took $1—all he had—from him.

The robbers were booked at Central police station and the $1 returned to Guides.

STEAMER ASHORE

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., April 26—The big shipping board freighter Brush, operated by the Pacific steamship Company, is ashore on Point Arago, near Coos Bay, Ore., and early today sent out a call for assistance. The call for assistance did not indicate whether the vessel was in immediate danger.

For That Touch of Powder After the Shave

"BUDDY BROOKS"

The Powder for Men

If you use a powder after shaving you will find a big improvement in "Buddy Brooks" over ordinary talcum."

"I Like Daddy's Powder Better Than Mother's"

If you quit using a powder because you found talcum too "shiny" or "slick" you will surely make "Buddy Brooks" a daily habit after the first trial.

"Buddy Brooks" is an after shaving powder. The can says, "A Man's Powder for Men." It is slightly "heavier" than talc—yet not anything like a "face powder." It is made with no other thought in mind than to please men.

"Buddy Brooks is highly antiseptic and soothing and will quickly heal any little cut or irritation of the skin.

Women and children now use Daddy's powder in preference to any fluffy, perfumed talcum or heavy face powder.

Just ask any druggist for a can of "Buddy Brooks." Sold and recommended from experience by M...'s Cut Rate Drug Store and every other good drug store and toilet goods counter in Elyria.—Adv

INTERNATIONAL SCANDAL LOOMS WITH ARREST OF SWEDISH SOPRANO

Grace Holst in an operatic role.

The recent reported arrest of Grace Holst, world famed Swedish soprano, in Naples, hints at an international scandal. Miss Holst was arrested with Caesar Formichi, Italian baritone, on complaint of the soprano's husband. The hearing of the charges on which they were taken into custody is expected to create a sensation although both parties deny any wrong doing.

OBJECTS TO BUSY WIFE BECOMING TAXI DRIVER

CINCINNATI, April 26.—With her husband and the law against her Mrs. Berl Rigdon Davis of 758 West Seventh street, this morning was denied a license to operate a taxicab.

She applied last week saying she had overcome the objections of her husband Earl R. Davis, but the latter wrote to city auditor Alfred Deckeback a letter saying:

"She does not need the money because my salary is sufficient for her needs. I do not think driving a taxicab is a suitable occupation for a woman because of the class of persons with whom she would be forced to come in contact.

"My wife's time should be devoted to her home and to our 5 year old child. Mrs. Davis makes additional money on the side from running a rooming house and I think she has all she can do to look after our child, conduct the rooming house and manage our own home."

Three times as many homes are being built this year

—yet in 1921, 5,000 had to go without ARCOLA

THIS FALL the disappointment will be greater.

Home building is three times greater and no more ARCOLAS are available than in 1921, because orders for larger Ideal Boilers have already over-taxed our factories.

Remember, an ARCOLA installation means a genuine American Radiator in every room. Healthful radiator warmth; protection for the children from colds. And so economical that it pays for itself in the fuel it saves.

Please help us to avoid disappointing you next Fall. Let your Heating Contractor give you an estimate today.

GRAND—"The Tiger's Claw," a clever adventure story of India with Jack Holt in the stellar role is now being shown. He is ably supported by Eva Novak, leading lady. Mr. Holt goes through many thrilling scenes in this absorbing production. Among them is a hand-to-hand fight with a tiger, a raging flood and an explosion. The picture according to those who have seen it is one of the most exciting ones ever witnessed.

DREAMLAND—Fred Stone in a type story of ranch life with an all star cast. This picture is a live one from start to finish, and has many exciting incidents. There is also working good comedy that is bound to be enjoyed.

AMERICAN—Pearl White in "Plunder," a live story all the way. This is the beginning of a great serial story that is bound to be attractive. Look into the heart of a fearless girl and the very inside of New York. There are crafty villains in the picture, and they make your spine like ice. There are surprises that alarm, and sensations that shock. The picture must be seen to realize how great it is.

COLUMBUS, April 26.—Putnam, Darke and Wyandot counties led both in the total value of livestock sold and the number of livestock producers using co-operative channels, according to a report of the Ohio State Farm Bureau Federation. Other leading counties were Fayette, Clinton, Auglaize, Knox, Hardin, Logan and Highland.

SULPHUR CLEARS UP ROUGH OR RED SKIN

Face, Neck and Arms Easily Made Smooth, Says Specialist.

Any breaking out of the skin, even fiery, itching eczema, can be quickly overcome by applying a little Mentho-Sulphur, declares a noted skin specialist. Because of its germ destroying properties, this sulphur preparation begins at once to soothe irritated skin and heal eruptions such as rash, pimples and ring worm.

It seldom fails to remove the torment and disfigurement, and you do not have to wait for relief from embarrassment. Improvement quickly shows. Sufferers from skin trouble should obtain a small jar of Rowles Mentho-Sulphur from any good druggist and use it like cold cream.—Advt.

SALVATION ARMY TO GET $1000 FOR EACH HOME RUN

NEW YORK, April 26.—Every home run that Babe Ruth hits in May may be worth $1000 to the Salvation Army home service fund, according to a statement issued from the latter's campaign offices here. The money will be contributed from the pockets of New York lawyers interested in the success of the fund.

COLUMBUS, April 26. — Boy Scout executives from Ohio, West Virginia and Kentucky, attending the annual spring conference of scout leaders here today, heard addresses by Dr J W. Wilce, Ohio State University football coach, on "physical fitness from the standpoint of the scout executive," and by Professor F E. Lumley, of Ohio State on "Social evolution."

On the ground that she can never smile again, a New York stage dancer claimed $25,000 damages from a "beauty doctor," who operated on her face unsuccessfully.

HARRY RICHARDS, prominent Philadelphia business man, says he will no longer be cheated out of meals by stomach trouble, for Tanlac has put him back in fine condition.

"No more will I be cheated out of the good things to eat, for the Tanlac treatment has overcome my stomach trouble completely, and I have also gained eight pounds." declared Harry Richards, 10 S. Fifth St., Philadelphia, well known sporting goods dealer and member of the Loyal Order of Moose, and the Ocean City Fishing Club.

"I was in such awful shape with indigestion that I had to lay off three and four days a week, unable to do any work. After eating my stomach would pain me till I was in agony, gas pressed up around my heart till I had to gasp for breath, and I was greatly annoyed by fearful dizzy spells.

"Mr. W. H. Williams put me onto Tanlac, and now I never suffer from my old troubles, can attend to business every day, and am brimful of new energy. Tanlac helped me when all else failed, and I'm glad to endorse it."

Tanlac is for sale by all good druggists. Accept no substitute. Over 37 million bottles sold.—Adv.

ARE LAST YEAR'S LOW SHOES IN GOOD SHAPE?

Now that warm weather is approaching and high shoes will be set aside for the cooler low ones—we have two things to suggest:

Have the high heavy ones fixed up before you put them away so they'll be ready for fall.

Bring last year's low shoes to be re-soled for the coming season's wear.

It's economy—attend to it today.

Elyrian's Mothers' Day Poem To Be Used Throughout World

At the meeting on Tuesday evening of the Educational Group of the Y. W. C. A. with the Federation girls, over 125 assembled to hear Rev. Joel Hayden give his talk on "World Conditions." Before sitting down to a delicious dinner, the Federation girls led the company in a song of Thanksgiving. During the dinner Mrs. Wm. Graves Sharp, who presided, called upon Mrs. Artemas Beebe to give an announcement of the rummage sale to be held on Thursday, Friday and Saturday of this week.

Miss Myrtle Miller, president of the Federation, then gave a report on the work done by the club. She spoke entertainingly of the pageant, "America's Hour," which was recently given at the Methodist church and repeated upon request on last Sunday evening. Large numbers of people enjoyed this presentation. She also spoke of the May festival which is to be given next Tuesday evening in the gymnasium. To this May party the entire membership of the Y. W. C. A. is invited at 7:30 o'clock, to witness the crowning of the May queen.

Mrs. H. M. Ebert, chairman of the House Committee, gave a report of her department. She told of the crowded condition of the Home, the necessity arising of providing extra sleeping quarters in the living rooms, as the dormitories are inadequate. 182 transients have been entertained since last June, having at present 19 girls rooming in the house and 15 of these taking meals there. There are many classes providing for the needs of the girls, such as, Bible, millinery, dressmaking, basketry. Her report showed the overworked condition of the House quarters.

In a few well chosen words, Miss Elizabeth Rich told of "Mother's Day," how the Y. W. C. A. came to be especially interested in it as an organization. She told of the former president of the board, Mrs. H. M. Miller, being asked by her daughter to write a poem which she could sing on "Mother's Day" last year. Mrs. Miller responded with the following poem, which Miss Jarvis, the mother of "Mother's Day," felt worthy to be used in this year's program, and which has been sent all over the world to be used on May 13th. The Y. W. C. A. is proud and delighted to have this new touch with the great movements of the world.

"A TRIBUTE TO MOTHERS"
(Tune—Materna)

To Thee, this day we tribute bring,
O Mothers of Mankind—
For depths of sacrificial love
In Motherhood we find.

What tender sympathy is hers,
Her patience, how sublime,
Her influence extends afar,
Beyond this realm of time.

It banishes unworthy thought,
Makes clean the lives of men,
Oh-memory of Mothers gone,
Revive our hearts again.

Inspire in us that fortitude
That courage unsurpassed
That ever-living faith in us,
Triumphant to the last.

Oh, Mothers of this present age,
Faint not, nor be dismayed,
When on life's daily battle-field,
You strive 'gainst wrongs arrayed

The Lord of Hosts helps you to win,
The fight for lasting good,
A race of sturdy men to gain,
And glorious woman-hood

Following supper, Rev. Joel Hayden, former pastor of the Woodland Ave. Presbyterian Church, sustained the interest of those present for nearly an hour. In a brief review of Mr. Hayden's talk, the outstanding idea is of world vision and world co-operation, especially and chiefly among the "workers." The rapid survey which he gave of conditions in his own congregation, mainly foreign in origin of their isolation as regards faith and tradition, and their consolidation in aims and outlook, when brought under the power of team-work, was illuminating.

A concrete example of such power, which he quoted, is The Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers. The finest paper edited in Cleveland, is under their guidance. He gave it high praise. The results of their canny business sense is seen in one of the greatest office buildings on Euclid Ave., erected by only one branch of this group of workers.

In England, Mr. Hayden thinks is found the strongest labor organization in the world. He prophecies in the near future a Prime minister from the Labor Party and he feels that in England will be developed the finest democracy the world has yet beheld. He thinks this due to the fact that in that little island they are mainly of one race and with all their modernity and their revolutionary economic ideas, they are truly loyal to the English theory of law.

Mr. Hayden's ideas were voiced by Ambassador Harvey just twenty-four hours earlier at the banquet of the Royal Society in the Guildhall, London, in the following.

"English principles as against Socialist theories: English Christian Faith as opposed to pagan practices, true to the highest aspirations, to raise higher and higher and bear further and further into the wilderness the torch of civilization."

In conclusion Mr. Hayden brought out the rapid democratization of religion in this day, the ignoring of dogma and the practical application of truths men live by. He evidently feels that men are entering upon a religious as well as an economic revolution, and he is not afraid. He rejoices that the old idea of salvation of the individual has shifted to "the present reformation of the world for the benefit of coming humanity."

On May 5th, Mrs. Helen Gardiner, Civil Service Commissioner of the U. S., will come from Washington to talk on "The Christian Women in Politics." At this meeting the Educational Department of the Woman's Civic Club have been invited as guests.

This course of lectures has been both interesting and instructive. Mrs. Sharp's idea has been twofold: first, to show the world need for Y. W. C. A. work, and second, to show how the Y. W. C. A. association is endeavoring to fill the need.

MY HUSBAND'S LOVE

Adele Garrison's New Phase of

Revelations of a Wife

Copyright, 1923, by Newspaper Feature Service, Inc

The Decision Madge Swiftly Made to Meet Dicky's Ultimatum.

Dicky's sneering reference to me as "Joan-of-Arc-with the fagots-just-lighting," was the last match needed to set the powder magazine of my temper ablaze.

One of my husband's most effective ways of infuriating me is to refer to me as "martyr-like." I sometimes wonder if my wrathful reaction to the accusation is not because of my subconscious recognition of a soupcon of truth in it—and the words in which he had couched his ultimatum concerning our finding another place had been especially blistering.

The one advantage I have in any tilt with Dicky has its roots in the essential difference of our temperaments. When he is angry he unconsciously works himself into a rage which becomes more tempestuous as it advances. But as a general thing, the more angry I am the more quiet becomes my voice, and the more controlled becomes my demeanor. Before I let myself go, I am like a seething volcano, but the mere act of loosening the reins on my wrath changes me to an iceberg, with a frigidity of voice and mien which generally stands me in good stead in any controversy.

"I—Will—Not!"

So, with every nerve taut but controlled, I threw back my head and faced my irate husband steadily.

"You mean then, I infer, to break our budget agreement to pay only so much for rent because we wish to save for Junior?" I put the query icily.

"I mean to get out of this blasted hole, no matter what I pay or what happens," Dicky stormed.

"Very well, then," I acquiesced. "You are at perfect liberty to select as expensive an apartment as you please—but—it will be a bachelor one. I will not live in any apartment for which we pay more than the rent we so solemnly agreed upon when we arranged our budget——"

Dicky promptly consigned the budget to a place which would inevitably consume its leaves, but I went on unheeding.

"Neither will I again undergo the back-breaking, nerve-shattering drudgery which preceded my finding of this place," I said steadily. "You hunted spectacularly for a day or two, and then tossed the whole thing upon my shoulders, and off your own mind. You know nothing whatever of housing conditions nor of the infinite trouble I had before fortunately stumbling upon this apartment. If you can find another at the same price in which you will consent to live, I'll gladly share it or I will stay here with you. But look farther for an apartment, myself, or live in one more expensive than this are things I—will—not—do."

Dicky Settles One Question.

I purposely made each word emphatic, and stressed the pauses between them. Then I turned away as if Dicky's reaction to my ultimatum was a matter of no interest to me.

In reality, however, my nerves were tensely fused into one burning interrogation point. I did not have to wait long for an answer, however. With a muttered imprecation, Dicky hurried through the frosted-glass doors which separated the living-room from the only bedroom and closed them so violently behind him that I feared the glass would be shivered.

It was a satisfactory punctuation of the controversy, I acknowledged to myself philosophically, although I well knew that it was by no means ended. But, with nerves somewhat eased of their tension, I let down the big davenport, which was a really good-looking couch by day, and a comfortable bed at night, and adjusted my covers and pillows.

The couch had been one of the things which decided me upon the apartment—this chance for Dicky and me to have the separate rooms that have been ours since our marriage, and because of his propensity for throwing his things upon the bed or floor, which never happened to be tandlost. I had given him the bedroom and taken the living-room with its disguised davenport as my own sleeping chamber. My comb and brush and other toilet articles I kept in a drawer of the writing desk, but my bath-robe, kimono and night dresses were hung up in the big wardrobe which served as our only closet in Dicky's room.

I was just wondering how I was to get them, when the glass door opened a crack, and through it hurled a bundle, which falling apart as it struck the floor, sent all my night and early morning requirements—including my mules, my oxfords and a morning house-gown—sprawling in a dozen directions. Dicky had forgotten nothing, and my anger against him was distinctly mitigated with amusement as I surveyed the heterogeneous collection upon the floor of the living-room. But that there was no diminution of Dicky's anger, I realized as I heard the door close again with an angry click.

MEDINA

MEDINA, April 26.—Punch board and slot machines, ousted from Akron and which are flooding Cleveland, were ousted from Medina county by Prosecuting Attorney Weber.

A special grand jury will be called to probe into the finding of an infant in a vault on the farm and following the arrest of Mrs. Addie Laflour at Akron. She and her husband, Dennis Laflour, are held on $5,000 bond each. Mrs. Laflour said she was caught alone when the child came unexpectedly. The report of Coroner Crum says: "Accidental means, as the mother was alone when the baby was born and the umbilical cord was wrapped twice around the infant's neck. If the child was alive when born the position of the cord would have caused the death if not immediately removed, which she did not know was the condition, when she picked up the infant that was blue or black and wrapped it in a blanket and laid it in bed beside her during the night." He is French-Canadian and she is German. The couple, with one child, had lived here two years and shortly after the child was born they moved to Akron.

OHIO WESLEYAN-OBERLIN BOTH STRONG FOR RELAY

OBERLIN, April 26—As far as can be predicted at present the Big Six track meet in Columbus on June 1 and 2 will be an exceedingly interesting affair for Oberlin and Ohio Wesleyan as far as the relay race is concerned. Oberlin with Gorsuch, Williams, Hines, Pearce, Richardson and Wilson is considered stronger than last year. Yet Gorsuch, running the 100, 220 and in all probability broad jumping, and Williams for the mile run, will probably not be used.

WOMAN'S HEALTH RESTORED

She Claims Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Did It After Everything Else Failed

Milwaukee, Wis.—"I feel that I ought to let you know about my case. I was ailing and could barely do my housework and washing I was so run-down, just from having one child. I took a lot of medicines and had doctors. Then I gave them all up and took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I feel wonderfully good now. I do every thing that comes along, and we all take your medicine as a tonic when we don't feel just so. I am thankful for what the Vegetable Compound has done for my health and for my family."—Mrs. MARY SAIECHECK, 944 28th St., Milwaukee, Wisconsin.

Letters like these testify to the value of the Vegetable Compound. These women speak from the fullness of their hearts. They describe as correctly as they can their conditions: First, those symptoms that affected them most conspicuously; and later the disappearance of those symptoms. They are sincere expressions of gratitude. For nearly fifty years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has been so praised by women.

BRIGHTON

By Mrs. W. H. Matcham

BRIGHTON, April 26—Rev. Bosworth and wife of Oberlin attended the Congregational church Sunday and called on Mr. and Mrs. Herb Gess.

Walter Mosher spent several days in Canton with his son, Marvin and wife.

Several pupils from the school attended the Mass Memory Contest which was held in Elyria Saturday and if they were not the successful ones Brighton claims some of the honor as one of the Brighton boys, Dean McClellan who attends Wellington High received the highest marks.

Mr. and Mrs. George Herbert and Mrs. Wesley Cole were Elyria shoppers on Monday.

Mert Merrils lost one of his horses Sunday.

Leslie Hardy and mother were in Ashland Monday.

Mert Caswell of Kipton called on his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Caswell, Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. John Edwards of [illegible] to have moved in with his mother, Mrs. Frank Edwards and make their home with her.

Miss Rose McCoy who has been visiting her sister, Mrs. Euta Peck returned to her home near [illegible].

Mrs. Merton Peck is quite sick. Mrs. Kelsey of Wellington is caring for her.

Mrs. Clarence Berkey and daughter Geraldine have returned to their home in Lorain.

Marvin Mosher of Canton visited his parents, Tuesday and Wednesday.

The farmers have their oats all in, and are busy getting ready to plant corn, and the sheep-shearers are busy.

Grant Pitts of Pittsfield was a Sunday caller at the Matcham [illegible].

A tubular comb that shampoos as it combs the hair is a new invention.

A CLEAR COMPLEXION

Ruddy Cheeks—Sparkling Eyes —Most Women Can Have

Says Dr. Edwards, a Well-Known Ohio Physician

Dr. F. M. Edwards for 17 years treated scores of women for liver and bowel ailments. During these years he gave to his patients a prescription made of a few well-known vegetable ingredients mixed with olive oil, naming them Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. You will know them by their olive color.

These tablets are wonder-workers on the liver and bowels, which cause a normal action, carrying off the waste and poisonous matter in one's system.

If you have a pale face, sallow look, dull eyes, pimples, coated tongue, headaches, a listless, no-good feeling, all out of sorts, inactive bowels, you take one of Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets nightly for a time and note the pleasing results.

Thousands of women and men take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—the successful substitute for calomel—now and then just to keep them fit. 15c and 30c.

BULLETINS

CARLISLE, Pa., April 26.—Fire destroyed the mess hall at the United States army post here. The loss is estimated at between $40,000 and $50,000.

HARRISBURGH, Pa., April 26.—The house by a vote of 114 to 73 passed the Derrick anti-daylight savings bill. The bill now goes to the governor.

SANDERSVILLE, Ga., April 26—Governor Hardwick this afternoon spared the life of Ralph Baker, 15 but refused to intervene for his older brother, George, who will go to the gallows at Lafayette, Ga., Friday for the murder of Deputy Sheriff J. S. Morton. Ralph's sentence was commuted to life imprisonment.

LONDON, April 26—Proposals for an international agreement for joint action in the event of a strike involving coal miners unions in the U. S., Great Britain, France, Italy, Germany and Czecho-Slovakia were under consideration here today.

Farmer's Sickly Little Girl Was Quickly Improved by Nerv-Worth

Father Says Stomach Trouble Relieved—Gained Weight.

"My little nine-year-old daughter had been troubled with stomach and bowel trouble for three years," said Miles J. Carter, Piqua, Ohio, and he continues: "We had tried a number of remedies without finding one that would help her, and we had given up hope of finding any relief for her, when we heard of Nerv-Worth. She has taken two bottles now, and is getting better and better since the first day she started to take Nerv-Worth. She has gained in weight and is more cheerful." The above statement is one of great weight to parents who have a child in a run-down condition, or suffering from ill health. Nerv-Worth is the ideal tonic for young or old. Its pleasant taste and beneficial effects make it exceptionally good for children. Remember Nerv-Worth is sold on a money-back basis, and if you are not satisfied with your first bottle, your druggist is authorized to refund your money.

MOTHER'S PLACE MAY BE IN HER HOME, BUT LAWSUITS TAKE THIS ONE'S TIME

Mrs. Mabelle Thornburg.

"Ho-hum," sighed Mrs. Mabelle Thornburg, twenty-two-year-old wife, as she took her place in a Youngstown, O., court-room. Married and divorced, remarried and with another divorce case pending recently she had her husband arrested for assault and battery. Now she has had her mother-in-law arrested on a kidnapping warrant. She charges Mrs. Thornburg, Sr., took her five-year-old daughter, Clara Jeanne, away from her last March. Both Thornburg and his mother are out on bail pending the settlement of the assault and kidnapping cases.

the university.

Interest in outdoor life impelled Mrs. Taylor to enroll at the university at first as a special student. She has specialized in science, chiefly in botany and expects to return next year as a graduate student.

By enrolling as a special student Mrs. Taylor was enabled to take advanced courses. By getting the highest possible grades in these courses she was able to omit preparatory courses. She ascribes her record to the fact that she has always taken courses in which she was really interested.

VINCENT

VINCENT, April 26—Mrs. Griffith of Oberlin, spent Monday and Tuesday with her son, Leo Armstrong, of Stop 7.

John Morris and family called on Arthur Johnson of Avon, Monday evening.

Mrs. Kolassy and daughter Ella, also her sister, Mrs. Erdelli, were the Sunday guests of Mrs. John Tulipan, of North Ridge.

Mr. and Mrs. Koholy moved Wednesday from their home, at Stop 7, to Elyria.

Malcolm Beese, who is employed in Cleveland, spent the week-end at his home here.

Mrs. Balaz of North Ridge, has moved to Ashland.

William Marlett and family went to Cleveland, Sunday, to visit a brother, who is ill.

NEWARK, April 26.—With a father who refused to take care of him, and an uncle who abandoned him in Columbus, Harry Malesky, age nine, started to walk back from Columbus to Steubenville, his home along the Pennsylvania railroad tracks, knowing they passed thru his home town.

AUTOISTS FAILED TO STOP IN HITTING BOY

LORAIN, April 26—Fred Norwazki, 7, of 6048 Broadway, was knocked down by an automobile while playing ball in the street, and was taken to St. Joseph's hospital with a possible fractured skull. The driver of the machine did not stop.

TODAY'S BEST STORY

Mrs. Mary I. German-Parker, 72, bride of three weeks, is, she says, happy as a lark in her newly-married life, and intends to keep on that way, despite the action of four daughters by a former marriage to prevent sale of property from her first husband, Moses I. German, of Lima.

It all came about through a marriage correspondence club. Six weeks after she had heard of Philander Parker 54, Washington, D. C., they were married. Ordered out of the Mrs. Parker's children on his first visit, Parker says he "returned under cover of the night," and he and his bride were married before the children knew he was in the city again.

The suit instituted by the daughters charges that Mrs. Parker is mentally deficient. The mother has replied that, instead of her children caring for her, she has taken care of them financially, and could show that she had taken care of her first husband's business since his death, 17 years ago.

Mrs. Parker said that the action was the result of jealousy on the part of the children because she did not consult them as to her marriage. The children charge that Parker is a mere adventurer, and Philanderer is a philanderer.

Priestesses who are credited with the power of destroying enemies by cursing them are regarded with awe by one tribe in Africa.

HEAL SKIN DISEASES

Apply Zemo, Clean, Penetrating, Antiseptic Liquid

It is unnecessary for you to suffer with Eczema Blotches, Ringworm Rashes and similar skin troubles. Zemo obtained at any drug store for 25c, or $1.00 for extra large bottle, and promptly applied will usually give instant relief from itching torture. It cleanses and soothes the skin and heals quickly and effectively most skin diseases.

Zemo is a wonderful, penetrating, disappearing liquid and is soothing to the most delicate skin. Get it today and save all further distress.—Advt.

Meet me at Century Park tonight.

SAY THEY'RE POWERLESS

COLUMBUS, April 26.—Ohio wholesale grocers are powerless to prevent the steady rise in sugar price, although they heartily oppose it, said H. R. Hills, president of the Wholesale Grocers' Association.

CINCINNATI, April 26.—An attempt to hold up a fast Baltimore and Ohio merchandise train was thwarted this morning at Aurora, Ind., when trainmen learned that the lines coupling the air brakes had been severed, making it impossible to move the train.

MANY FOREST FIRES

HARRISBURG, Pa., April 26—Forest fires numbering 114 are sweeping various parts of the state today, destroying hundreds of acres of timberland and in many instances threatening towns and outlying settlements near the mountains.

Portland, Ore., will entertain this year's convention of the National Association of Business and Professional Women's Clubs.

Simple Phosphate Supplies Strength and Energy Building Elements That Modern Foods Lack.

Just one of two little tablets of real organic phosphate dispensed in drug stores under the name of Bitro-Phosphate taken with each meal is probable just what you need to cause you to jump out of bed in the morning eager for the industrial battle of the day.

Modern foods lack sufficient phosphates and that is why 40 per cent of men and women today are nervous, weak and run-down. Bitro-Phosphate is safe to take and any good druggist can supply it as reasonable cost.—Adv.

SURRENDERS AT PEN

LORAIN, April 26.—Louis Chozinsky, Lorain, walked into the Ohio penitentiary yesterday and gave himself up. Chozinsky escaped from the New London prison farm in 1919.

COLUMBUS, April 26.—Peter Albietz, who has been 10 years in state service, the last six with the division of securities, has resigned to engage in the practice of blue sky procedure and corporation law. In 1916 Br. Albietz, then an attache of the auditor of state's office, declared himself in favor of ex-president Wilson and the then auditor of state, Vic Donahey. The state civil service commission took exception to his attitude, and refused to approve his salary check. Donahey insisted that Albietz's salary should be paid, and that he would pay it "until hell freezes over."

Claiming that a train accident caused her to become too fat, a Missouri woman has been awarded damages to the extent of five dollars for every added pound.
